From Whom You Buy is just as important as To Whom You Sell

SELL TO PEOPLE who are in distress and who are likely not to get your money. Buy from people who are in distress and you are likely not to get the goods you want
... or the service.

These two rules have unusual significance today, especially to the paper industry. The New York and Pennsylvania Company, Inc., does not wish to appear to boast of its strong position in the paper business, but it is not so. It is a fact that its success, and the interest of publishers of paper who are not dependent upon their sources of supply, is based on the fact of its position ... from whom you buy is just as important as to whom you sell.

Founded in 1886, the company has grown steadily.
It now supplies custom-finished and super-standard papers of high grade to publishers of general and trade publications of large circulation, to school-books, and other book publishers, to manufacturers of labels, tablets and tin plates, to lithographers and other large users of paper. Our papers throughout the United States have been chosen for their sound business practices and established reputations. Our own relative position in the industry was never stronger. Despite the depression, we have been able to improve the quality of our products and the responsiveness of our service. Both are now at their high point.

For no person in general, buyers of paper can purchase through our jobbers or direct from us, not only paper, but also assurance of faithful performance in delivery, quality and service.

GRANDE VALSE CAPRICE

Thousands of copies of this species display plate have been sold. It is one of those compositions that sounds very linear at first, but as it really is properly explored, it should be magnificent before being placed on a grigori. Gracie H.
